About the example in this guide

Every screen in this guide was captured from the working system using test data only. The example activity, "ICT Department Quarterly Systems Review and Staff Training", the people's names and the amount of KES 250,000 are illustrative. They are not an institutional plan, budget or authorisation.

1. What the workflow is for Every activity a department intends to carry out needs the CEO's approval and authorisation before it happens. The activity memo workflow moves that request through the right people in the right order, inside FAPM, and keeps a permanent record of every step.

1. The Head of Department writes the memo and submits it.
2. The Assistant Chief of Staff or the Chief of Staff reviews it. They can send it back for correction, comment on it, and then forward it.
3. The CEO approves and authorises it, declines it, or returns it for clarification.

At every stage the memo shows its status, who has it, what happens next and the latest comment, so nobody has to ask where a memo is.

> Good to know
> - Forwarding a memo to the CEO is not an approval. Only the CEO's decision approves and authorises an activity.
> - Comments, returns and decisions are kept exactly as written. Nobody can edit or delete them afterwards.
> - A Head of Department sees only their own department's memos.

2. Who does what

Role	What they can do	What they cannot do
Head of Department (HOD)	Create memos for their department, save them as drafts, edit drafts, add locations, build the team and planned costs, add an officer who is missing from the staff list (and correct officers they added), attach the signed memo and supporting documents, submit for review, correct and resubmit a returned memo, and follow every memo of their department to the CEO's decision.	Change a memo while it is being reviewed or decided. Approve anything. Deactivate or change officers they did not add. See other departments' memos, the activity register, dashboards or reports.
Assistant Chief of Staff (ACOS)	Review memos sent to them, add comments and recommendations, return memos for correction, adjust the team and costs if needed, forward to the CEO (or to the Chief of Staff if the route setting requires it), and prepare memos on a Head of Department's behalf.	Approve or decline. Act on a memo that is with the Chief of Staff.
Chief of Staff (COS)	Everything the Assistant can do, on any memo under review, plus following all memos in the Office of the CEO.	Approve or decline in the system.
Chief Executive Officer (CEO)	See memos forwarded for decision with all details, documents, comments and history. Approve and authorise, Decline (reason required) or Return for clarification (reason required).	Nothing is held back from the CEO.
System Administrator	Create and manage Head of Department accounts and link each to a department, reset passwords and two-factor sign-in, set the review route, and view the access and audit log.	See memo contents, review, or take any approval decision.

3. The workflow at a glance

What each status means

Status	Who has it	What happens next
Draft	The Head of Department (or the office preparing it on their behalf)	Finish the memo and submit it. Only the department can see its own drafts.
Under review	The Assistant Chief of Staff or the Chief of Staff, as shown on the memo	The reviewer comments, returns it for correction, or forwards it.
Returned for correction	The Head of Department	Make the corrections asked for and resubmit. It goes back to the reviewer who returned it.
Awaiting decision	The CEO	The CEO approves and authorises, declines, or returns it.
Returned (by the CEO)	The Chief of Staff and Assistant Chief of Staff	They answer the CEO's comments and forward it again, or return it to the Head of Department.
Approved	Nobody: decided	The activity is approved and authorised. The record shows who decided and when.
Declined	Nobody: decided	No further action. The CEO's reason is shown on the memo.

4. Signing in

1. Open FAPM in your browser and enter your NG-CDF email address and password.
2. The first time, read the Data Privacy Statement, tick the box to agree, and continue.
3. You land on your starting page. A Head of Department lands on Activity memos. The Office of the CEO lands on the dashboard and finds memos under Activity memos in the menu on the left.

> Tip
> Two-factor sign-in can be switched on for your account under your name (top right) › Profile and security. The yellow number next to Activity memos counts the memos waiting for you.

> Your session ends after 15 minutes without activity
> This protects RESTRICTED information. Save your work as you go; drafts are kept.

5. Head of Department: create a memo, build the team and costs, and submit

5.1 Create the memo and save it as a draft

1. On Activity memos, press Create new activity memo.
2. Fill in the form. Fields marked * are required: Title, Category, Purpose, Planned start and Number of days. Your department is filled in for you and cannot be changed.
3. Fill in the rest as fully as you can: Justification, Expected outcomes and deliverables, Participants and stakeholders, the Venue (for example "NGCDF Board headquarters"), the Estimated budget and, if there is one, the Budget line.
4. Attach the signed memo or concept note (PDF, Word or image, up to 10 MB). You can also attach it later.
5. Choose the County as well as the venue: the county sets the allowance (DSA) rate.
6. Press Save draft. The memo gets a reference number such as FAPM-2026-27-00001.

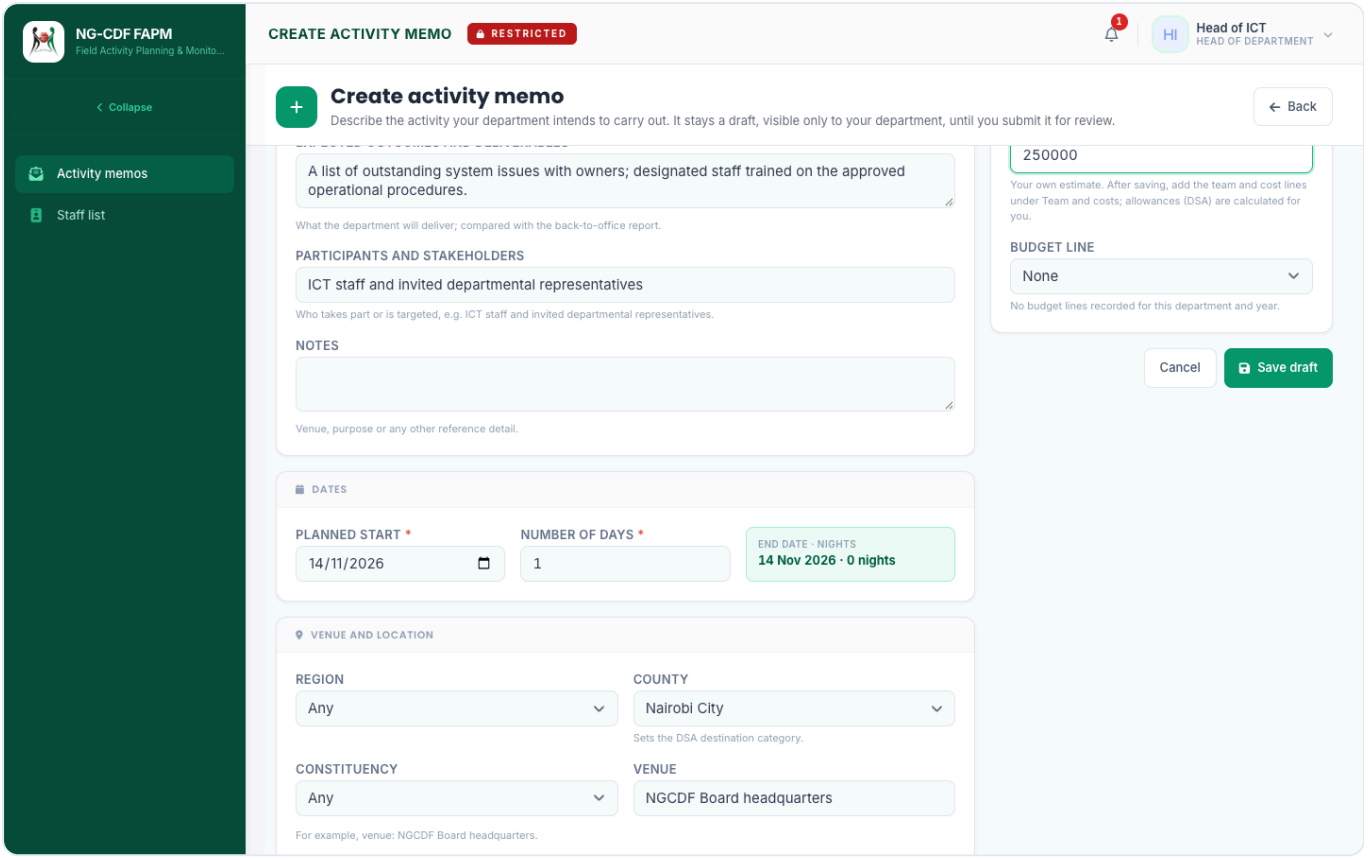

Figure 2. The memo form (lower part shown: participants, dates, county and venue, estimated budget). The end date and nights are worked out for you.

> Fill in the justification
> Reviewers often return memos that do not explain why the activity is needed now. In the example below, the Assistant Chief of Staff returns the memo for exactly this reason.

5.2 Check the draft

After saving you see the memo page. The blue note confirms it is still a draft that only your department can see. Use Edit memo to change it, Add location for another place, and the Documents panel to add supporting documents.

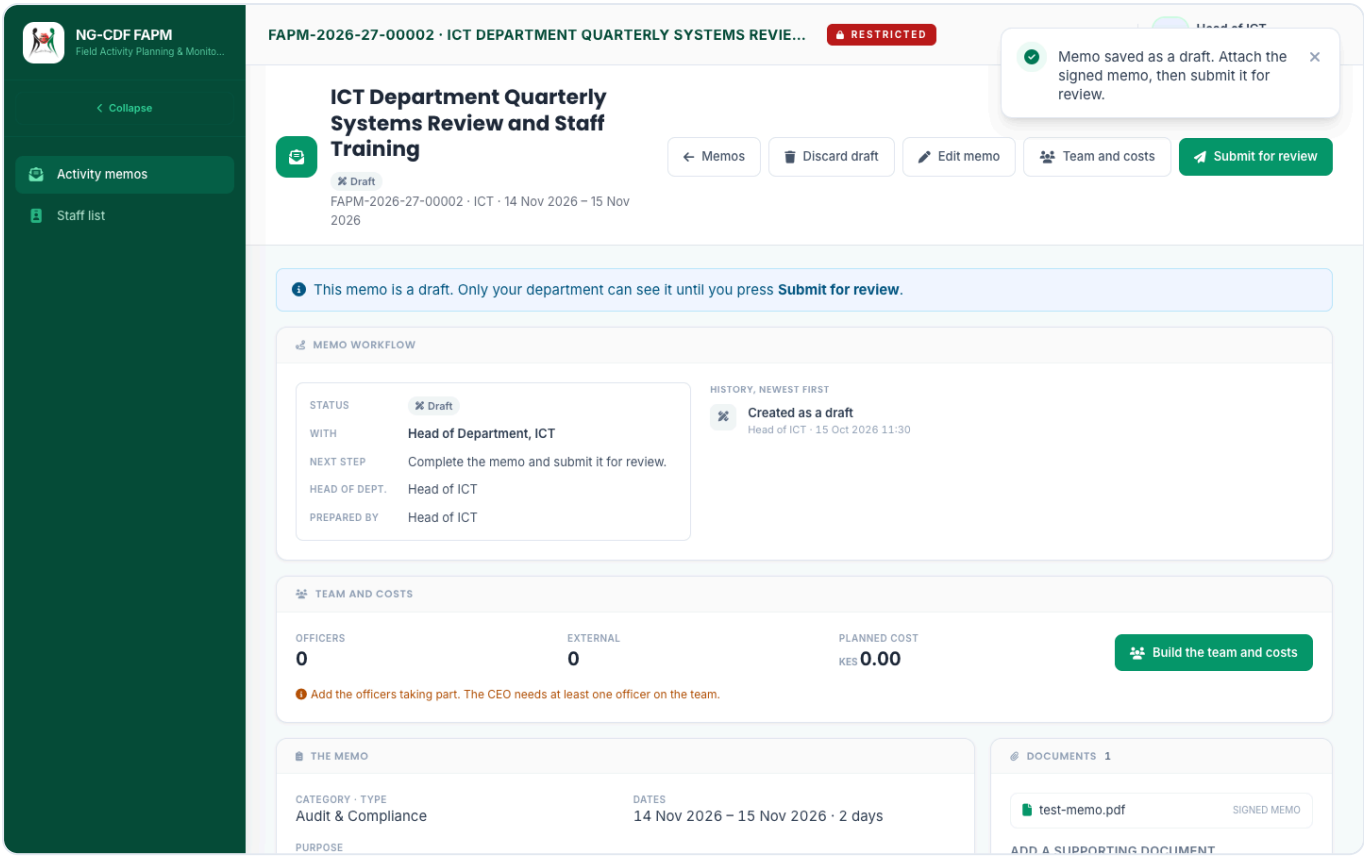

Figure 3. A saved draft: where it is, the Team and costs summary with Build the team and costs, then the memo's details and documents.

5.3 Build the team and costs

You put together the team and the planned costs yourself; nobody in the Office of the CEO needs to do it for you.

1. On the memo page press Build the team and costs.
2. Press Add officers. Search by name or PF number, tick each officer taking part, choose their role, and press Add to team.
3. If an officer is not on the list, press Officer not on the list? Add them to the staff list. Enter their PF number, name, department and job grade from their HR record and press Add to staff list. They come back ticked: press Add to team.
4. For someone who is not Board staff, press Add external participant.
5. If an officer takes part on only some days, press Days next to their name.
6. Allowances (DSA) are calculated for you from each officer's job grade, their nights away and the county. Add any other costs (travel, venue, meals, training materials) with Add cost line.

> If an officer is already on another approved activity on the same dates
>
> The officer is flagged "Already on another approved activity on these dates". You can still add them, but you must give a reason they can take part in both. You are not shown the other activity: it may belong to another department.

5.4 The staff list

Staff list in your menu shows every active officer. Use Add officer to add someone who is missing. You can correct the officers you added (the pencil appears next to them); changes to anyone else, and deactivating an officer who has left, are done by the Office of the CEO.

5.5 Submit for review

1. Press Submit for review.
2. Choose who reviews it: the Assistant Chief of Staff or the Chief of Staff. Add a note if you wish.
3. Press Submit for review in the popup to confirm. The reviewer is alerted at once.

> Before you submit
> Check that the team has at least one officer, every overlap has a reason, the county is set, and the signed memo is attached. The memo cannot go to the CEO without them.

The system checks before it sends

You cannot submit until the memo has a venue or location and the signed memo is attached. A clear message tells you which is missing. Pressing Submit twice, or from two windows, sends it only once.

6. Reviewers: review, comment, return or forward

This section is for the Assistant Chief of Staff and the Chief of Staff.

6.1 Find what is waiting for you

Open Activity memos. The first tab, Awaiting my review, lists the memos with your office. Other tabs show memos returned by the CEO, memos back with Heads of Department, memos forwarded to the CEO, memos prepared on a Head of Department's behalf, and what you processed recently. The figures at the top count memos at each stage.

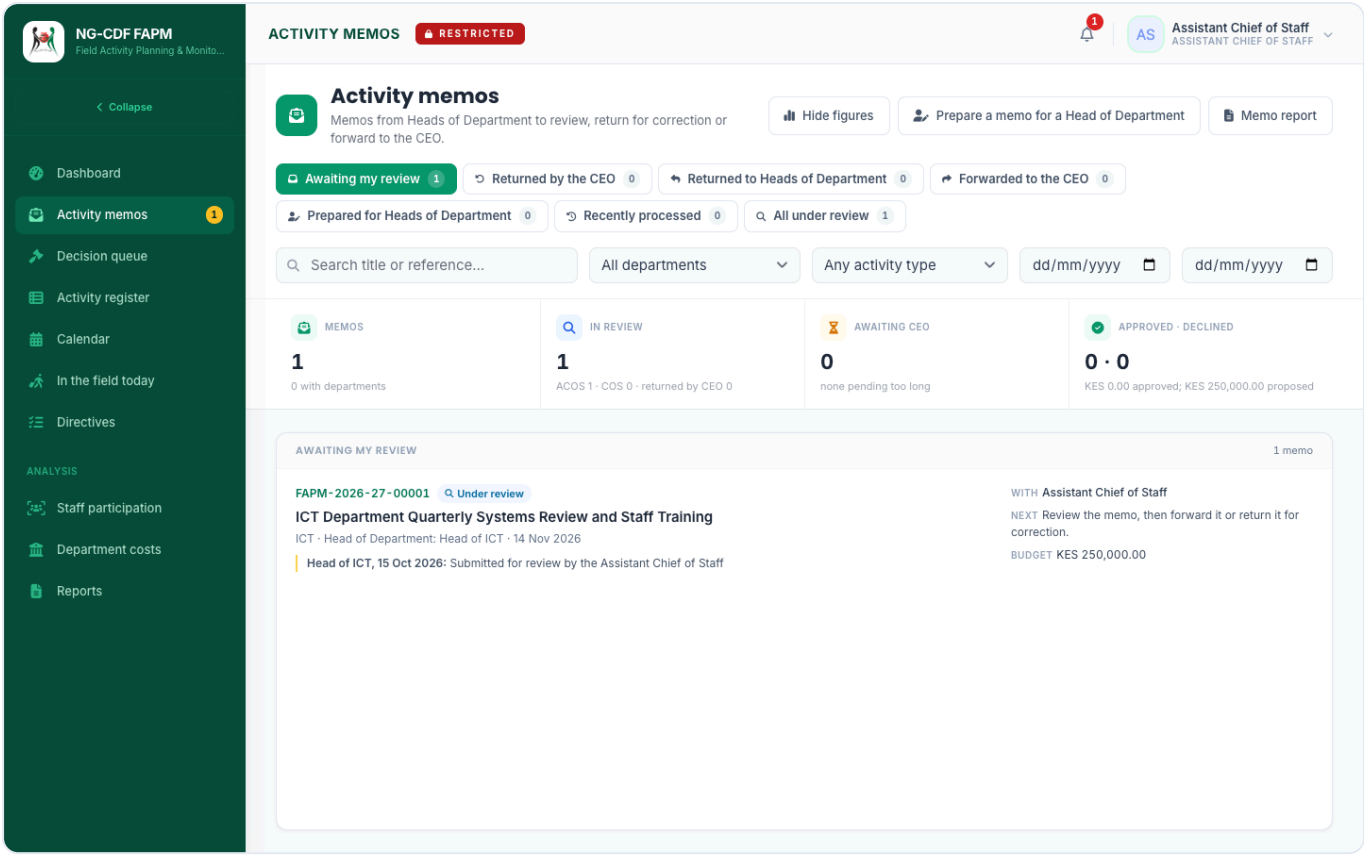

Figure 10. The Assistant Chief of Staff's memo board. Each memo shows its status, who has it, the next step, the budget and the latest comment.

6.2 Open and review the memo

Click the memo. The memo page shows the Memo workflow panel (status, who has it, next step, the Head of Department, who prepared it, and the full history), then the usual tabs: Overview, Team, Costs, Decisions and directives, Report and History. Open the attached documents from the Overview tab.

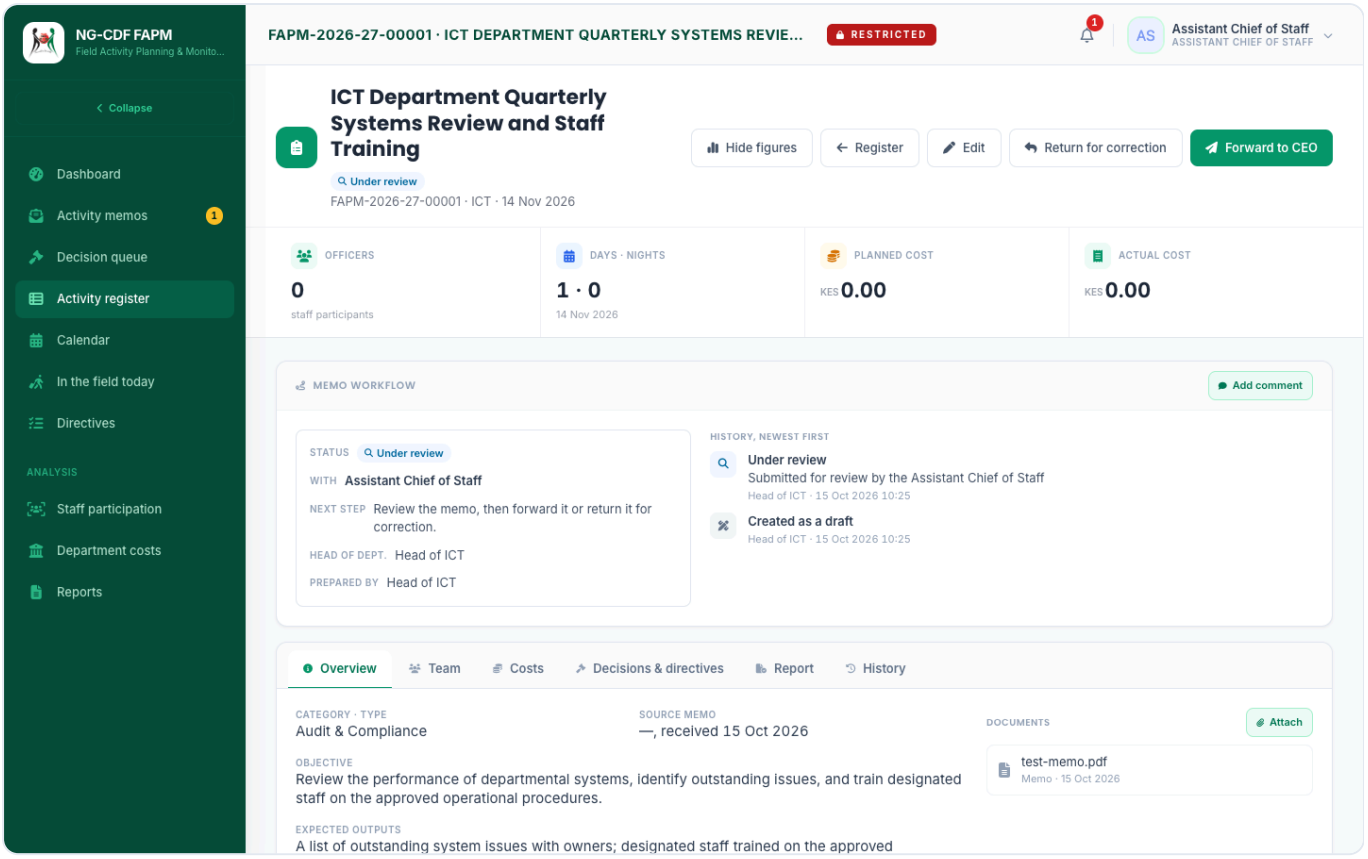

Figure 11. A memo under review, seen by the Assistant Chief of Staff, with Return for correction, Forward to CEO and Add comment.

- Add comment records a comment, optionally with a recommendation (Recommend approval, Recommend changes, Do not recommend). Comments cannot be edited or deleted.
- Check the Team and Costs the Head of Department prepared. You may adjust them yourself with Edit and the Team and Costs tabs, or return the memo for correction. The CEO needs at least one staff participant.

6.3 Return for correction

1. Press Return for correction.
2. Say exactly what must be corrected. This is required.
3. Press Return for correction in the popup. The Head of Department is alerted and the memo is unlocked for them.

6.4 Forward to the CEO

1. Make sure the memo has a staff participant (Team tab), a location and the signed memo. Usually the Head of Department has already added them.
2. Press Forward to CEO. Choose a recommendation and add a review comment if you wish.
3. Press Forward to CEO in the popup. The CEO and the Head of Department are alerted.

> If the button says "Forward to Chief of Staff"
> The System Administrator or Chief of Staff has set the route so that memos the Assistant reviews go to the Chief of Staff first. The Chief of Staff then forwards them to the CEO.

7. Head of Department: correct and resubmit

1. When a memo is returned you get an alert (the bell at the top right) and the memo appears under the Returned for correction tab.
2. Open it. The orange box What to correct repeats the reviewer's words.
3. Press Edit memo, make the corrections, and press Save changes.
4. Press Resubmit for review, say briefly what you changed, and confirm. It goes back to the reviewer who returned it.

8. Preparing a memo on a Head of Department's behalf

The Assistant Chief of Staff or Chief of Staff can record a memo for a Head of Department, for example one received on paper. The system records both people: the Head of Department responsible, and you as the person who prepared it. You never sign in as the Head of Department.

1. On Activity memos, press Prepare a memo for a Head of Department (or Record activity in the register).
2. Choose the Requesting department, then the Head of Department. If that department has no account yet, type the Head of Department's name instead.
3. Fill in the memo, attach the signed memo, and press Save draft.
4. Add the team, then press Forward to CEO. It does not need to be submitted by the Head of Department, who can follow it on their own board.

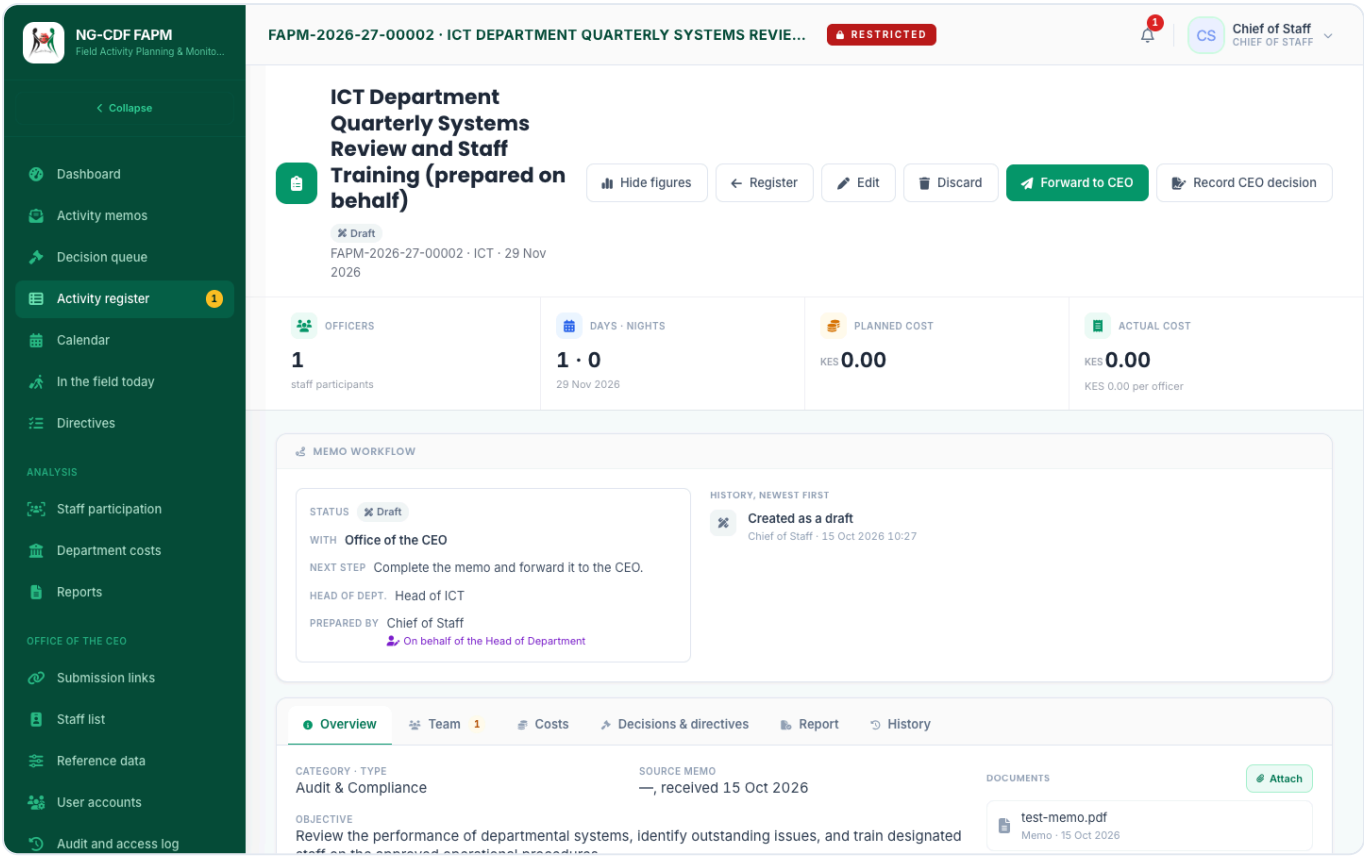

Figure 18. A memo prepared by the Chief of Staff: Prepared by Chief of Staff, on behalf of the Head of Department; Head of Dept.: Head of ICT.

9. CEO: approve and authorise, decline, or return

1. Open Activity memos (tab Awaiting my approval) or the Decision queue. Each memo shows the dates, place, team, planned cost, the Head of Department and the reviewer's latest comment and recommendation.
2. Open the memo for the full details, documents and history if you need them.
3. Choose one:
   - Approve and authorise: a comment is optional.
   - Decline: a reason is required.
   - Return: a directive or comment is required. The memo goes back to the Chief of Staff and Assistant, who may pass it to the Head of Department.
4. Confirm in the popup. The decision, your name, the date and time and your comment are recorded and cannot be changed. The Office of the CEO and the Head of Department are alerted.

An approval cannot happen by accident

The CEO can decide only a memo that has been forwarded. A memo is never marked approved just because it was forwarded, and two decisions made at the same moment cannot both be saved.

10. Following memos: status, alerts and reports

- Memo board. Every role has tabs for what concerns them. The first tab is what needs your action; its count is shown in yellow.
- Alerts. The bell at the top right lists alerts. Click one to open the memo. Alerts tell you what to do, for example "Returned for correction, please revise and resubmit".
- Reminders. A memo left under review or awaiting decision for longer than the reminder period (3 working days by default) is marked Pending since on the board, and the person holding it gets a daily reminder.
- History. The Memo workflow panel shows every step, newest first, with who did it and when.

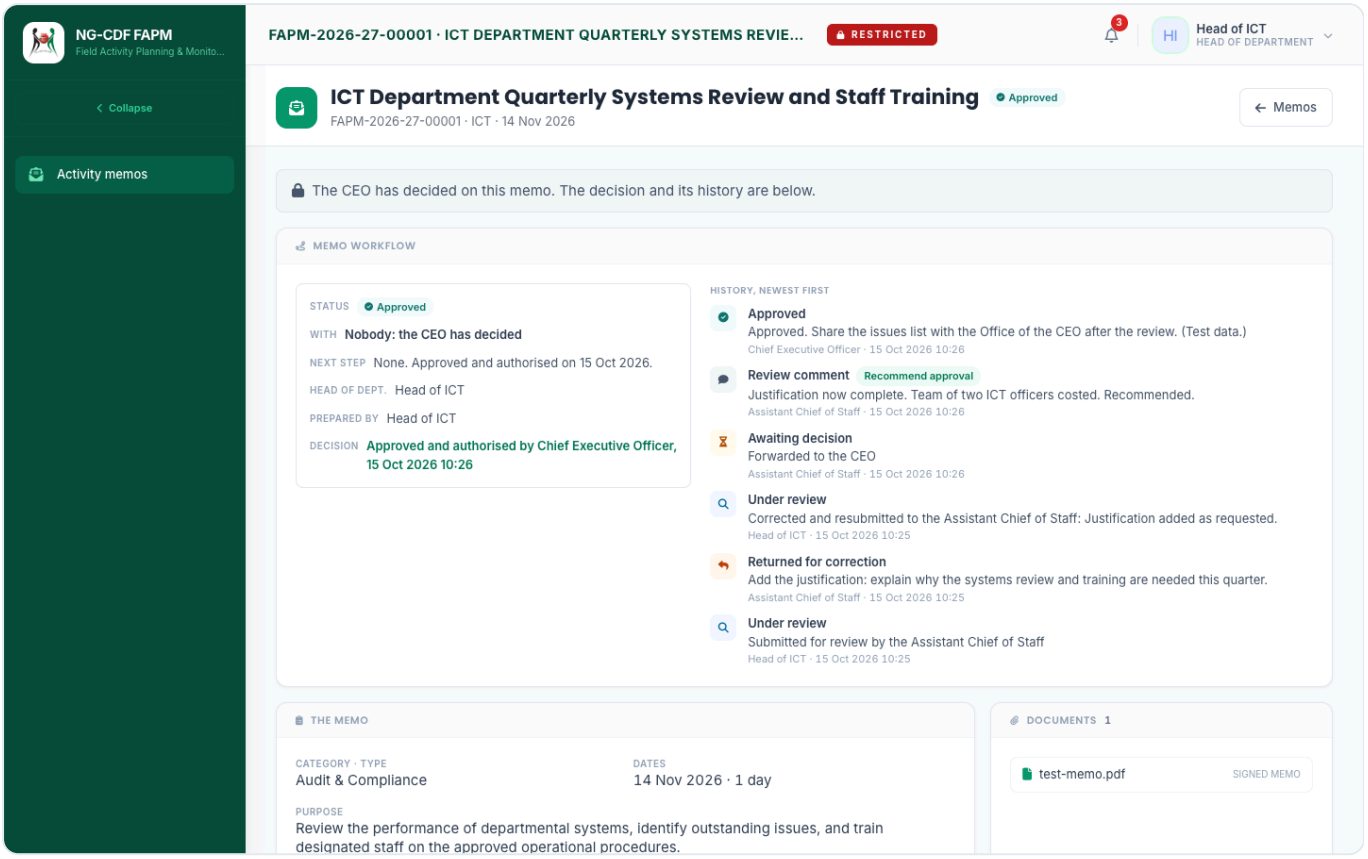

Figure 23. What the Head of ICT sees after approval: approved and authorised by the Chief Executive Officer, with the date, time and full history.

The Activity Memo Workflow report

The Office of the CEO can open Reports › Activity Memo Workflow (or Memo report on the board). For each memo it shows the department, Head of Department, who prepared it, status, who has it, the submission date, the days spent with the department, in review and with the CEO, whether it is pending too long, the department's estimate, the costed plan, the approved amount and the decision date. Filter by financial year, quarter, dates and department, and export to Excel, PDF or print. Each memo is counted once, however many times it was returned.

11. System Administrator: accounts and the route setting

Head of Department accounts

1. Open User accounts. Under Heads of Department, press Add Head of Department.
2. Enter the name and email and choose the Department. Save, then share the one-time password privately.
3. Each department has one active Head of Department. When the holder changes, Deactivate the old account first. Use Change department if a Head of Department moves.

Review route and reminder period

Under Reference data › Thresholds: Assistant's memos go through the Chief of Staff (No by default: the Assistant may forward straight to the CEO) and Memo pending reminder (working days) (3 by default). Changes are recorded in the audit log.

> The System Administrator cannot see or decide memos
> Account and settings changes never alter a memo, a comment or a decision.

12. Common mistakes and how to fix them

What you see	Why, and what to do
"Add the venue or location before submitting."	Press Edit memo and fill in the venue (or county), then submit again.
"Attach the signed memo or concept note before submitting."	Use the Documents panel on the memo page, press Attach, then submit.
There is no Edit memo button.	The memo is with the Office of the CEO or decided. It can be changed only after it is returned to you.
"Add at least one staff participant first." (reviewer)	The team is empty. Return the memo to the Head of Department, or add the officers on the Team tab, then forward.
The officer I need is not in "Add officers".	Press Officer not on the list? Add them to the staff list in the same window, or use Staff list › Add officer.
"An officer with this PF number is already on the staff list."	They are already there: search for them by PF number instead. If their details are wrong, ask the Office of the CEO to correct them.
No DSA appears for the team.	Add a county to the location (memo page › Add location) and check each officer has a job grade.
"This memo is with the Chief of Staff for review." (Assistant)	The memo has moved to the Chief of Staff. Follow it under All under review.
"There is no active Head of Department account for this department …"	Nobody can receive the return. Make the correction yourself, or ask the System Administrator to create the account.
"Someone else changed this memo a moment ago." or "Someone else saved this memo after you opened it."	Another person acted first. Reload the page to see where the memo is now, then act again if still needed.
A toast says DSA was not calculated.	The location has no county, so no allowance rate applies. Add a county on the memo page or enter costs on the Costs tab.
I cannot see another department's memo.	Correct: a Head of Department sees only their own department.
I was signed out.	Sessions end after 15 minutes without activity. Sign in again; saved work is kept.

13. Testing checklist

Use test accounts and test data only. Tick each item when you have seen it work. These scenarios were run in the system on 15 October 2026 to produce the screenshots in this guide.

Scenario 1: memo from the Head of Department

- [ ] Head of ICT creates "ICT Department Quarterly Systems Review and Staff Training" (NGCDF Board headquarters, Nairobi City, illustrative KES 250,000) and saves it as a draft.
- [ ] Head of ICT opens Team and costs, adds two listed officers, adds a missing test officer to the staff list from the same window, adds an external participant and a cost line; DSA appears for each officer.
- [ ] Submit is refused until the venue and signed memo are present.
- [ ] Head of ICT submits to the Assistant Chief of Staff; status Under review; ACOS alerted.
- [ ] Head of ICT can no longer edit the memo.
- [ ] ACOS returns it for the missing justification; a reason is required.
- [ ] Head of ICT sees "What to correct", adds the justification and resubmits; it returns to the ACOS.
- [ ] ACOS checks the team and costs and forwards to the CEO with "Recommend approval", without adding anything.
- [ ] Status Awaiting decision; the memo is not approved yet.
- [ ] CEO approves and authorises with a comment.
- [ ] History shows every step with names and times; the Head of ICT is alerted.

Scenario 2: prepared on behalf

- [ ] Chief of Staff prepares the same type of memo for ICT, choosing Head of ICT as Head of Department.
- [ ] Memo shows "Prepared by Chief of Staff, on behalf of the Head of Department".
- [ ] It appears under Prepared for Heads of Department.
- [ ] COS forwards it to the CEO; the Head of ICT can see it but not change it.
- [ ] CEO approves; the report lists it once, "Chief of Staff (on behalf)".

Controls

- [ ] Another department's Head cannot open the ICT memo or its documents.
- [ ] Head of Department cannot open the register, dashboard or reports.
- [ ] Head of Department sees the Staff list, can add an officer, and can edit only officers they added.
- [ ] An officer on another approved activity on the same dates is flagged without naming that activity, and needs a reason.
- [ ] Declining and returning require a reason.
- [ ] With the route setting on Yes, the Assistant's forward goes to the Chief of Staff.
- [ ] A memo pending longer than the reminder period is flagged.
